a year later we were in los angeles. once again we played the avalon ballroom and once again we were booed. the door man was a friend of mine so i went up to him and asked who the heck was that. he said it was jim morrison, the lead singer from the doors. i told him we were the opening band. he said, ok, i need to talk to you. we walked in and jim was sitting with his manager and said, this is my band. we hadnt ever met him and hadnt heard any doors records. jim said, we are the doors! i said, no, no, no. you are not the doors, you are something new, i love what you are doing. he said, ok, i have a band. i said, thats great. can i call you a friend? he said, sure, thats ok. we hung out and he told us a lot of stories. he told us about growing up with alcatraz, the ww2 in europe and how it all affected his life. 1. im an adult now (12:54) 2. hard to laugh (6:18) 3. she's so young (3:20) 4. you were too much (6:30) 5. love junk (5:58) 6. the truth (3:12) 7. let him continue (3:42) 8. don't leave me lonely (3:41) 9. she let him continue (3:41) 10. just like me (4:28) 11. i miss you (3:44) 12. the world (3:54) i got a call from the a&r guy of the movie and he wanted to meet me. he said the producers said we were the band to do the songs. i told him i didnt have a band any more and i was living with my girlfriend and working as an electrician at the studio. i worked a long time waiting to get the chance to do an album in the movie world. i called the guys and asked if i could get some lyrics. i had all the music down and the vocals were written out. they said they were fine. i had them sing in my studio and wrote the lyrics down and mailed them. got a call one day and the guys said we were having a meeting with the head of the movie, paul newman. when i walked in paul had his guitar on and he asked us to play. we played and he said that was the best thing he had heard all day. i went back to the hotel room and tore up my lyrics and wrote new ones. i changed the keys, moved the time to 3 am and created a new song. we said, this is more like it. we cut the new track and got a call to meet the producer for the first time. he loved it. we played it for him and asked for a release to use it. he said, youre a great band and we have the rights to your original material. i was in shock. he told us to put some money in a bank account and they would let us use the music for a few weeks. during the time we got a call to play the closing ceremony for the olympics at the closing ceremony. we rehearsed and they gave us the date and time. we played and it went great. paul newman was there and he told the crowd he loved the song and asked if we could use it in the movie. paul newman and his partner, robin williams had their own production company. the producer called me and said we were going to film the day after and that the rights were set up. robin and i went to the location and they were filming a baseball game and the whole place was set up as a baseball stadium. we went to their offices and the producer told us where to get some shirts and we would go on set. we walked in and said hello to the director and robin said hi. we told him the story and he said he didnt want the song, he wanted the whole album. i was shocked. the director asked us to play the whole record in the baseball stadium. i asked him if he had read the script. he said he hadnt. i said that he didnt want the song. he said it was his only request and we could leave. i said okay and we went to the next scene. the director said he loved the song and wanted to use it. we were back to the baseball stadium and i said, then i guess we have to play it. they filmed the whole stadium and the song was done in a few takes. they used it and it was a huge hit.

that was not the only time i had to put my shirt back on. todd would come into my room and tell me i had to come on stage and sing. i said, todd, you are nuts! i am no where near ready to sing. he said, but your going on. you said, but thats crazy, i am just going to say stupid things tonight. and you are going to have to improvise a lot. i said, that could be really funny! so, i went on stage and sang and was so nervous i could hardly breath. i was thinking this is a disaster. i am going to blow it. i should have said stupid things, that could have been so funny! but, todd was just so excited that i was going to make him look good and bring him into the band. he would just rave on and on about how brilliant i was. i was a bit in awe of him. at that point i felt very flattered and loved. i was a bit star struck too. we all had fun that night. todd and i went out to see the movie, best laid plans and we both loved it. the movie was very comedic and i am a big fan of kevin spacey. todd said it was the first film he was in that he enjoyed. the star of the movie was keith richards and the studio where we shot it was the supremes mansion. todd was in it too. the love junk deluxe edition includes: the love junk deluxe edition 2cd: featuring the band performing their love junk live show at the berkeley college of music, boston, massachusetts. the love junk deluxe edition 2lp: featuring the bands lush first album enhanced with a 24 page booklet, archival photographs both licensed and from the bands personal archives, new liner notes with interviews from band members past & present, written by david wild, an emmy nominated tv writer, best-selling author and a longtime contributing editor to rolling stone. an exclusive 12x12 inch triple gatefold lp. 5ec8ef588b
